SCRAP IN COUNCIL CHAMBER.

During the investigation of the suspension of Mr. George Conway, of the fire department, by Chief Taylor, by the Board of City Council, on Monday night, an offensive epithet was applied to Councilman Eggleston by Conway, and when Eggleston jumped to his feet and started towards Conway, Chief Taylor ran between the two men, and was stabbed in the left shoulder by Conway. The gash was some five inches long and one inch in depth, requiring a number of stitches to close it up. Dr. C. A. Fish dressed the wound.

Conway was at once arrested by Officer Robinson and gave bond in $200 to answer in the police court. The City Council then unanimously ordered Conway's dismissal from the position he held as driver of the hose wagon in the fire department.

We regret very much that such an ugly state of affairs should have arisen and especially that the council chamber should have been the scene of such a disgraceful row.

TROUBLES ADJUSTED.

It looks now like the trouble between the city, the Board of Education and the Frankfort and Versailles Traction Co., over the use of second street and the Boulevards is in a fair way of being adjusted.

This is a much-to-be-desired end, and the sooner it is settled properly the better for all concerned.

Dr. Weaver's Treatment.
Syrup purifies the blood, Cures boils skin eruptions.

SNEAK THIEVES AT WORK.

On Tuesday night last two men (sneak thieves) went to the residence of Mr. L. B. Weisenburgh, Jr., on Campbell street, and proceeded to help themselves to whatever suited them. They took two broiling chickens, a $40 roll of carpet, some garden hose and a bucket and had started to leave when a little girl, who lives with Mr. Weisenburgh, heard them and awakened Mr. Weisenburgh, who gave chase. The men were seen by Mrs. Weisenburgh, as they ran, and dropped everything but the two chickens. It seems they were determined to have something to eat.

Gentlemen of the police, watch out for sensations on the South Side.

POSTMASTER ELKIN DIES.

Mr. F. Clay Elkin, Postmaster at Lexington, died in that city on Tuesday night after an illness of only a few days, of rheumatism of the heart. Mr. Elkin was a prominent member of the Republican party and had served about seven years as Postmaster and had made a good record.

RECEIVED FIRST CONTRACT.

The big lumber firm of Hammond & Co., of this city, received the first contract for lumber from the New York contractors for the new capitol. They made deliveries of the first lot of stuff required on Friday and Saturday.

The contractors are putting up office quarters, tool houses and storage quarters, on the ground. They have gone to work like they meant business from the start, for which we are duly thankful.

We congratulate Messrs. Hammond & Co. upon their precedence in this matter.

AT BRIDGE.

DIFFICULT AND DANGEROUS JOB.

Mr. Chas. W. Vogler, the plumber, has been engaged, this week, in putting up a scaffold on the Church of the Good Shepherd, preparatory to straightening the cross on the top of the steeple, regilding the cross, and repairing the tin on the body of the spire ready for the painters. It is a very difficult and dangerous job. We, however, have seen men, at two different times, stand up in the opening in the cross at that dizzy height. There is not money enough in this city to tempt us to undertake either job.

CHANGED HANDS.

On Tuesday last Mr. John B. Dryden, Sr., sold the Frankfort Cail to Mr. J. W. Marksbury, who took charge the same day. Mr. Dryden will still remain on the staff of the paper.

Mr. Marksbury is a veteran in the newspaper business, having been an editor of the Journal and a correspondent of various city papers.

We welcome him back to the tripod and wish him all success in his new venture.

Dr. Weaver's Syrup and Cordes.
Successful treatment for blood and skin diseases.

OBTAINS SUPPLY OF SMALL MOUTH BASS.

Mr. Geo. L. Payne applied, some weeks ago, to the U. S. Fish Commission for a supply of small mouth bass. He was discouraged from doing this by a number of his friends, but persisted, and was successful.

On Friday some 4,000 of these small fish were received by him. He at once took them out to the Forks of Elkhorn creek, both in the north and south forks and in the main stream at Steadman town.

Mr. Payne was naturally proud of his success, and thinks that this fine fishing stream will soon be restocked with these delightful game fish.

BUYS COZY COTTAGE.

Mr. John A. Kieber, the South Side merchant, purchased from Mr. A. H. Wagoner, of Cincinnati, Ohio, his cottage residence, on North St. Clair street, on Tuesday, for $1,400. The sale was made by real estate agent Mr. L. B. Marshall.

Monday night, August 28, the theatrical season will be opened in Frankfort by the popular Harris-Parkinson Co., in a repertoire of new comedies and dramas interspersed with high class vaudeville acts at the people's popular prices—10, 20 and 30 cents. This company made a great hit in Frankfort last season and the season before and comes back this season with an acting company of 23 people and a carload of special scenery.

Manager McNamara has had a large force at work during the past few days getting the Capitol Theatre in shape for the opening, and several noticeable improvements will be made the coming week.

The new drop curtain which is to be furnished by the Lee Lash Co. of New York, will arrive in a few days and will be the most artistic ever seen here. The new drop street presenting Main street from Elk Place to St. Clair St., looking west, is finished and will be ready for use Monday night.

Manager McNamara states that the bookings at Capitol Theatre are the most notable ever presented at this popular play house, and represent the cream of the popular operas of the day, musical comedies and dramas. A number of notable stars have been booked and will appear here during the season of 1905-6.

BUSINESS MEN TO VISIT CINCINNATI.

The Business Men's Club, to the number of about 100, will return the visit of Cincinnati Business Men's Club on Thursday, September 14. This was settled at the meeting of the Club held on Thursday night, in the Collins building. It is expected that this affair will be productive of great good in bringing the two organizations into closer touch.

Too much credit can not be given President Geo. B. Harper for bringing about the arrangement.

MRS. HUGH R. AYRES' WILL.

We clip the following from the Louisville Herald, giving a summary of the will of Mrs. Effie L. Ayres, who died last week:

The will of Effie L. Ayres, dated July 3, 1905, was admitted to probate yesterday. The instrument disposes of an estate the value of which is not definitely known, though it is supposed to be in the neighborhood of $15,000.

The will leaves $500 to Alice May Ayres, a sister; $500 to Albert L. Macey, a cousin, and the residue to Edward L. Ayres, a son. The testatrix asks that this son, who is an infant, be placed with George E. Ayres, a cousin, to be reared and educated, and that the Fidelity Trust Company shall qualify as his guardian. It is stated that the boy has also some estate left him by his father. Geo. E. Ayres is left $100 a year.

In the event of the death of Edward L. Ayres before he reaches his majority, without issue, the property is to be divided as follows: To Thomas Burge Ayres, $1,000 (this legatee is the father of the testatrix); to Luella A. Hufferberger, a sister, $500; to Elizabeth Ayres Pedigo, $500; to George E. Ayres, $500; to Wilbur T. Ayres, $500 (these legatees are cousins); to the Highland Presbyterian Church $500, and the residue is to be equally divided between Alice Mae Ayres and Albert L. Macey, cousins.

It is thought that some of the provisions of this will conflicts with that of her husband, Mr. H. R. Ayres, who died only a few months since. There are a number of residuary bequests to the estate in this community.

THE JOHNSTOWN FLOOD.

The flood which devastated Johnstown, Pa., and the Conemaugh Valley, May 31, 1889, is shown in cycloramic form at Atlantic City, with a vividness bordering on actuality. On the Broad walk, opposite the Steel Pier, there has been constructed a building for this production which affords every facility for this purpose. It is open to the public every day and evening, except the Sabbath, at hourly intervals this great historical drama will be enacted. The building, which cost $50,000, has a frontage of 150 feet, and extends outwardly so as to give a frontage of 180 feet for the stage, the largest of the kind in the country. It is owned by Mr. Randolph McNutt, of Buffalo, N. Y., and is under the management of Harry D'Esta. There is an enormous electric light plant with prisms and color screens attached and so arranged as to give a wonderfully realistic effect to the rushing waters and upturned land. There are drawing rooms decorated with choice paintings depicting interesting scenes; retiring rooms and cozy smoking rooms, in this way those awaiting entrance to the auditorium can pass the time without annoyance or inconvenience. Of the cycloramic drama it can be said to be simply marvelous in its realism. Real water seems to be rushing down the valley from South Fork Dam, houses seem to tumble and be carried away by the flood, the surging waters seem to rise up over the Conemaugh bridge and whirl around Sang Hollow signal station. There is shown Johnstown as it was before the flood, as it appeared during the flood, as it was after the flood and as it is today. The celebrated Cambria Iron Works and the Gaultier Wire Works are shown as are also the hills on the opposite side of the town on which the people sought safety. John Baker, the brave hero, is shown as he dashed down the valley from the broken dam, shouting to the people to flee from the coming tidal wave. The St. Louis day express, which was caught in the flood, and the first section which ran out of the death trap, also hold an important place in the exhibition.

BURNED TO DEATH.

The little child of Mr. Rolla Kavanaugh, section foreman on the F. & C. Railway, living at Stamping Ground, was so unfortunate as to get hold of some matches, on Wednesday last, and set fire to its clothing, burning it so badly that it died that afternoon at 5 o'clock.

The sympathy of many friends is extended to the afflicted family.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Bids for whole building and also for separate parts of building will be received until 10 o'clock a. m. Thursday, August 31, 1905, for the construction of a three-story 12-room brick schoolhouse. Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of L. L. Oberwarth, the architect, or by calling on the undersigned. The right is reserved to reject any and all bids. Address all communications and bids to L. B. Marshall, Secretary Board of Education, Frankfort, Ky.

A GOOD NIGHT'S REST

"Speak for it" she cried to doggie, For she knew in her little heart, That German Syrup, home's great treasure, Could health and joy impart.

¶The greatest tonic on earth is a good night's rest. Restless nights and the terrible exhaustion of a hacking cough are dread dangers of the poor consumptive. ¶But why this fear of the night when a few doses of Dr. Bosche's German Syrup will insure refreshing sleep, entirely free from cough or night sweat? Free expectoration in the morning is made certain by taking German Syrup. ¶We know by the experience of over thirty-five years that one 75-cent bottle of German Syrup will speedily relieve or cure the worst coughs, colds, bronchitis or lung troubles—and that, even in bad cases of consumption, one large bottle of German Syrup will work wonders. ¶Two sizes, 25c and 75c. CATALOGUE ISSUED.

The catalogue for the big Kentucky State Fair, to be held at Lexington September 18-23, was issued last Friday. It is the handsomest and most complete catalogue ever issued for any State Fair in the country. Its typographical appearance is unexcelled and its arrangement is of such kind as to insure the easiest and most convenient access and to enable the securing of the information desired with the least possible trouble.

Nearly $25,000 in premiums is offered for the fair. The classifications cover beef cattle, dairy cattle, horses of all kinds, mules and jack stock, swine, sheep, poultry and pigeons, vegetables and melons, field seeds and grain, tobacco, horticulture, plants and flowers, woman's work, table luxuries, farm implements, machinery, mines and mineral products. The variety of these different classifications assures exhibitors that will be in themselves a liberal education.

A feature of the fair will be the magnificent Dura Band of forty-odd pieces, probably conceded to be the greatest band in America to-day. The Will S. Heck World's Fair Pike Co. will offer the novelty amusement features connected with the fair. They will include a Wild West show and a splendid animal show among other attractions. Reduced rates of one fair plus 25 cents for the round trip have been secured on all railroads from all points in Kentucky. There is every prospect of a record-breaking attendance, and there seems good reason to believe that this year's fair will be such a success as to insure its permanence along larger lines than heretofore.

SOLDIER BOYS COME HOME.

The Martin Guards, Co. C., 2d Regiment, Kentucky National Guards, and the Battery, from this city, returned from the State Encampment at Paducah, on Tuesday morning. The boys looked browned up by their service and in fine shape generally.

EXCURSION TO CINCINNATI.

The F. & C. Railway, in conjunction with the K. C. R. R. Co., will run an excursion from this city, to-morrow (Sunday), by way of Paris, to Cincinnati and return. The fare for the round trip will be only $1.25. The train will leave this city at 7 a. m., reaching Cincinnati at 10:30 a. m. Returning it will leave the 4th street station at 8 p. m., reaching this city at 11:30 p. m.

This is the first excursion run by way of the Bourbon capitol and will no doubt be a very pleasant one.

DELIGHTFUL WEATHER.

The rains of the first of the week succeeded in reducing the temperature so that the weather has become ideal—the days being warm and the nights so cool that sleeping has become a blessed luxury.

Cured

At 70 of Heart Disease Contracted

During Civil War—Veteran Grateful.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure Effected Cure.

Heart disease is curable, but in people of advanced age it does not readily lend itself to ordinary treatment. There is, however, hope for all sufferers in Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, which we know from watching hundreds of cases and from the letters of grateful sufferers, will cure where all else has failed. It is not only a wonderful cure for weak and diseased hearts, but it is a blood tonic, a regulator of the heart's action and the most effective treatment ever formulated for improving the circulation of the blood.

"During the Civil war I contracted heart disease, and in 1866, while living in the grand old town of Lexington, Va., I grew so much worse, I left there with my wife to visit my mother-in-law, Mrs. T. A. Kirby, at Roanoke, Va. While I said nothing to anyone I never expected to live to return to the dear old home. On reaching Mrs. Kirby's she insisted I should try Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. I procured a few bottles of it, also the Nervine and Tonic. After using one or two bottles, I could see no improvement, and I despaired of ever being kept, but my faithful wife insisted on keeping it up, which I did. Improvement soon began to be manifest and I took all five bottles, and I was restored to perfect health and while I am 70 years old, I am comparatively a boy. You see, I was a sufferer, and I cheerfully recommend Dr. Miles' Heart Cure to suffering humanity."—J. L. SLAUGHTER, Salem, Va. All druggists sell and guarantee free bottle. Dr. Miles' Remedies. BEAUTIFUL RECEPTION.

Dr. John P. Stewart and wife held a delightful reception at their handsome residence (so long known as the K. M. L. and now as the "Stewart Home"), on Tuesday evening last.

Notwithstanding the threatening weather, there was a large assembly of our best people, who thoroughly enjoyed the affair.

The beautiful grounds were lighted up, and presented an ideal scene. Delightful music was furnished by Louisville harpers.

Dainty and appetizing refreshments were served.

The guests departed with enthusiastic commendation of their hospitable entertainers.

FRANKLIN BAPTIST ASSOCIATION.

The Franklin Baptist Association will meet next Wednesday, August 23d, in the pavilion at Cove Spring Park, in its 91st annual session. Dr. U. V. Williams, of this city, is the Moderator. Mr. E. R. Jones, of Switzer, is the Clerk. Doubtless there will be a large attendance from the sixteen churches composing the body.

The large auditorium will afford abundant room for all, and it will be a cool and pleasant place to transact the business. There are over 3,000 members in the various churches connected with the Association.

THE ONYX WAY.

There is no way to maintain the health and strength of mind and body except by nourishment. There is no way to nourish except through the stomach. The stomach must be kept healthy, pure and sweet or the strength will let down and disease will set up. No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, sour risings, rifting, indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles that are curable are quickly cured by the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. Kodol digests what you eat and strengthens the whole digestive apparatus.

POULTRY EXHIBITION.

To be Held Here Four Days in December.

"The State Poultry and Breeders Association of Kentucky," of Frankfort, Ky., was organized here Tuesday night for the purpose of "improving the standard of poultry and pet stock in this locality." An exhibition of poultry, pigeons and pet stock will be held here December 19, 20, 21 and 22, and breeders of thoroughbred stock from all over the United States will be invited to participate with them, bringing here their best stock to encourage the city fancier and farmer to study standard bred stock and improve the quality of their own flocks. The standard bred poultry business has proven to be most profitable. The demand for high quality poultry and choice eggs can not be supplied, is increasing rapidly and poultry shows are the greatest educators in that direction.

The association has engaged Mr. Theo. Hewes, of Indianapolis, Ind., to judge the show for them. Mr. Hewes is a judge of national reputation and is considered one of the best in this country. He was selected by the St. Louis World Fair Purchase Exposition as one of the judges of the World Fair Poultry Show, and officiated in all of the most important shows in the United States. The association is extremely fortunate in getting such a man.

Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Cincinnati and Louisville hold these shows annually, and they have proven to be the attraction of the year. It is to be hoped that the merchants and the people generally will do everything in their power to assist these gentlemen in making the show a grand success. Any one wishing to join this organization can do so by calling on the secretary and paying $5.00 membership fee. The following officers were elected:

President—H. H. Roberts.
Vice President—Albert Blanton.
Secretary and Treasurer—John H. Cassell.

Superintendent of Poultry—W. A. Glanton.
Superintendent of Pigeons—W. H. Hoge.

State College of Kentucky

Lexington, Kentucky.

The Agricultural and Mechanical (State College) of Kentucky offers the following courses of study, viz: Agricultural, Horticultural, Chemical, Biological, Mathematical, Physical, Normal School, Classical, Mechanical Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Civil Engineering, and Mining Engineering, each of which extends over four years and leads to a degree. Post graduate studies are also provided, leading to a master's degree. Each course of study is organized under a separate faculty. The general faculty number nearly fifty professors and instructors.

County appointees receive tuition, room rent in dormitories, fuel and light, and if they remain ten months, traveling expenses.

The laboratories and museums are large, well equipped, comprehensive and modern. The Legislature appropriated $60,000 for a college home for young women and $20,000 for drill hall and gymnasium for men. Both buildings are completed and in use. Military tactics and science are fully provided for as required by Congress.

Graduates from the several courses of study readily find excellent positions and liberal remuneration. The demand is largely in excess of the ability of the College to supply.

Specialists with the necessary number of assistants have charge of each department of natural sciences. Summer schools are provided for pedagogy, engineering, instruction in science and in arts.

The State College of Kentucky, though bearing hitherto the title of "college," is the only institution in the Commonwealth doing, in any proper sense, university work.

The completion of the College home for young women provides facilities for good board and lodging. It is equipped with all modern conveniences, including bath rooms and room for physical culture. It is heated by steam and lighted by electricity.

An opportunity is thus afforded to young women of obtaining a thorough education in classic, modern language, literature, science, mathematics, logic, metaphysics, history, and political economy.

No other institution in the State offers advantages for education of women at all comparable to those offered by the State College of Kentucky.

For catalogue, method of obtaining appointments, information regarding courses of study, and terms of admission, apply to JAS. K. PATTERSON, Ph. D., LL. D.

NICE AFFAIR.

The Steadmantown Circle of the Kings' Daughters had a delightful entertainment at the residence of Mr. John T. Hockensmith, on the Peak's Mill pike, on Friday night last. Notwithstanding the heavy rain, there was a good crowd present, who thoroughly enjoyed the affair.

In the voting contest for the most popular and handomest young lady, Miss Nellie Hockensmith was chosen.

The affair netted a neat sum for the Hospital.

Editor Roundabout:

When one gets Ballard's Obelisk, Miles' M. K. M., Old John or Marguerite Flours they get a Flour made from sound, dry wheat, as the mills at which these flours are made are located in sections so they are enabled to draw their supplies of wheat from States that harvested and threshed their wheat and put it on the market in first-class shape, while local mills are compelled to use wheat that was harvested and threshed damp. Wheat once wet can never be dried to make first-class flour. It will pay those wanting good flour to ask their grocers for the above brands. Call on me before buying and I will tell you all about it.

CLIMATIC CURES.

The influence of climatic conditions in the cure of consumption is very much overdrawn. The poor patient, and the rich patient too, can do much better at home by proper attention to food digestion, and a regular use of German Syrup. Free expectoration in the morning is made certain by German Syrup, so is a good night's rest and the absence of that weakening cough and debilitating night sweat. Restless nights and the exhaustion due to coughing, the greatest danger and dread of the consumptive, can be prevented or stopped by taking German Syrup liberally and regularly. Should you be able to go to a warmer climate, you will find that of the thousands of consumptives there, the few who are benefited and regain strength are those that use German Syrup. Trial bottle, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all drug-gists. 1 yr.

KENTUCKY'S GREATEST.

Shelby County Fair to be Held August 22, 23, 24 and 25.

Reduced rates on All Railroads.

The great Shelby County Fair will begin its forty-fifth annual exhibition on their grounds near Shelbyville, next Tuesday, August 22, and continue four days. Reduced rates have been arranged for on all railroads and as usual a large crowd from this county will be in attendance. The Shelby County Fair is probably the best old-fashioned fair now being held in Kentucky, and no visitor ever attends that does not spend a pleasant time and feel upon his return that he is well repaid for his time and the little expense necessary for the trip.

Besides the usual attractive programme, several new features have been arranged for this year that will especially interest visitors from a distance. The Floral Hall exhibit this year promises to surpass all former exhibitions and will be alone worth the cost of admission.

Tuesday, the 22d, will be "Ladies and Children's Day," and all of the fair sex and the children will be admitted free. Wednesday will be "Blue Grass Day." Thursday will be popular "Louisville Day," and Friday "Shelby County Day." Remember the dates—August 22, 23, 24 and 25—and make your arrangements to attend the Shelby Fair.

CLOSE CALL.

While attempting to cross the railroad bridge, on Thursday evening, shortly after 7 o'clock, Mr. H. Clay Wilson, agent for the New York Life Insurance Co., had his buggy upset and himself thrown out by the switch engine, which was following close behind the belated C. & O. train from the east.

Mr. Wilson was hurt about the head and hip. The buggy was practically uninjured and the horse (which has run away twice before), ran up Broadway to St. Clair, up St. Clair to Main and out Main to Arlington Heights, where he was caught and brought back down the street.

Mr. Wilson was assisted to his house, where his bruises were attended to.

He will be confined to the house for a time.

It was a close call. As to who was to blame for the accident there is a difference of opinion among the witnesses.

"Itching hemorrhoids were the plague of my life," almost wild, Doan's Ointment cured me quickly and permanently, after doctors had failed." C. F. Cornwell, Valley Street, Sangerites, N. Y.

GRAVE TROUBLE FORESEEN.

It needs but little foresight to tell, that when your stomach and liver are badly affected, grave trouble is ahead, unless you take the proper medicine for your disease, as Mrs. John A. Young, of Clay, N. Y., did. She says: "I had neuralgia of the liver and stomach, my heart was weakened, and I could not eat. I was very bad for a long time, but in Electric Bitters, I found just what I needed, for they quickly relieved and cured me." Best medicine for weak women. Sold under guarantee by all druggists, at 50c a bottle.

One of the loveliest receptions this season was given by Miss May Hockensmith in honor of her guests at the Forks of Elkhorn, August 10. The color scheme was green and yellow. The reception room, parlor, hall and dining room were decorated in palms and yellow flowers, artistically arranged in every nook and corner. Candles, with tiny yellow shades, stood in profusion everywhere. In fact, the house looked as fairy land might look.

The guests were met at the door by Miss Daisy Hockensmith, who was gowned in white organdie. At the head of the stairs stood Little Miss Emma Holton, who showed each guest to the waiting rooms. There the ladies were met by Mrs. Hockensmith and the gentlemen by Mr. Hockensmith.

After a few dainty touches, the guests proceeded down the long corridor to the receiving line, in which stood Miss May Hockensmith, gowned in red silk mull; Mr. Allen Crittenden, of Greenville, Miss.; Miss Martha Baker, in white organdie and Lewis, of Shelbyville; Mr. Lane Hockensmith; then Miss Jennie Wash, in white organdie and Italian embroidery trimmings, of Shelbyville. Misses Sue Harper and Allie Holton preceded very gracefully over the festive table. Mesdames Harper and Newman assisted in the dining room.

The guests were: Misses Jennie Wash, Shelbyville; Martha Baker, Nicholasville; Spicie Belle South, Eudora South, Mary South, Annie and Eva Hockensmith, Sallie and Lydie Suter, Carrie Brock, Maria Trimble; Miss Church, of Texas; Agnes and Bessie Crutcher, Frankfort; Beatrice Hockensmith, Bettie Bowen, Allie Wilkerson, Lexington; Mary and Quaries, Julia South, Finkle Crum, Sue Harper, Alene Holton, Carolyn Gray, Lulu O'Hara, Roberta Moore, Messrs. Take some reliable remedy for it to-day - and let that remedy be Dr. Boesche's German Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty-five years. It has done before it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. (Written for the Roundabout.)
"GHOSTS"—A STORY FOR MEN ONLY.

Chapter VII—Motherhood.

"As economy of attention requires" that the mind should be brought to a thought in the shortest and easiest way, a decided gain is often effected by putting a part for the whole, so Huldah's method was not only individual but rational from a reasonable vantage ground.

I said "Howdy," and she responded with a smile, laying the bunch of pinks close to my trembling fingers. She was a very pleasant picture to look upon though her face betokened days of weary labor, with nights of vigil of questioning surmise. Her lips uncertain, and trembling from suppressed emotion. I felt that another chapter in a real story was about to be revealed to my unconscious ego, and the knowledge derived would act in nowise detrimental to my mental culture.

Huldah represented the motherhood of the mountains. The mortal spirit of the Godhead that dwells alone and silent in the hearts of the women—and which suffers and endures only a pathetic recognition, beyond the passing outward signs of grief and sorrow. She regarded home as the one spot in all her little world circumscribed by the encircling mountains. Her children, the sum total of value, commensurate with the trite world. Her husband, the one being unknown in his preconceived ideas to the other members of a common brotherhood comprising her neighborhood. Herself simply an instrument in a plan of Providence to increase the family of a generation—a figurehead in arithmetical factoring—a milestone on the highway of predetermined destiny. Just a handful of dust scattered to the winds; a trouble made to be broken by a breath; a life leveled—because of obligation!

There was never a thought of the tenderness commensurate with her characteristic virtue, not one expectation as to a possible reward, even after death, only a ceaseless vigilance over that part of daily living wherein one holds success or failure as a matter of fact.

These are simply psychic impressions caused by negative problems. It is not a case in point, but a complete whole, and I watch the phases of reciprocal telepathy swaying the wires of memory I was in a measure prepared for what followed.

"You're haint married, Toni?"

"No, Huldah," I replied with a determination never to be. "I am a lonely-hearted sinner, not good enough to find the right woman to make or mar my happiness. But this is neither here nor there! Tell me your troubles; perhaps I might be able to speak some word of comfort, or give you a word of advice."

She shrugged her shoulders as one does before a possible attack, and clasped her hands in expression of determined effort.

"We uns are tired of livin' with we unsa man! Tired of tryin' ter fight ther enemies moonshine, an' kyds—tired uv workin' fer nuthin'—corn failed, an' failed, ever thing failed."

I was suddenly brought face to face with tragedy, more real, more personal than any seen upon the boards. The plot was the same old story of sin and separation—this time the man was to blame (and isn't the man always to blame?)

Wear of labor, and life is only work from the cradle to the grave! Fighting enemies, whisky and gambling, two stupendous giants in the arena of daily striving. Failure in crops, failure in hopes, failure in prospects, could any present, past, or future happening be less dreadful?

"I am sorry for you, Huldah. The loss of your man might prove a real evil to you for you are too true a woman to secure a divorce—too good a wife to leave the man to his enemies—too devoted a mother to let the children suffer. Where are your father and mother? Could they not help you over this trouble, and give you some means by which you might live easier?"

Huldah did not answer. She broke into a deluge of tears, so copious, so overwhelming, that it seemed to me the fountain of her heart had broken its bounds without reserve. The tears of a woman always was my undoing; any other alternative better than this! So I turned my head and looked out upon the breadth of heaven's canopy. It was an ideal morning. The mist from Bayne's Valley floated away in fantastic forms, and the sweet fresh air from Mt. Livingston blew across my brow. I waited. Slower and slower grew the intense sobbing, more resigned the features, and again turning my head I met Huldah's smiling face. A woman is a problem. From tears to smiles, from depths of despair to heights of happiness—what a complex problem!

"We uns feels better, Tom. Tears keeps ther heart from broken, an' a kine word wuz what we uns needed. You uns done good, an' Huldah is goin' back home with a purpose ter be brave. Brother Wyatt said ther chillun cud tend school, an' we uns will take washin' fur ther boarder at ther dormitory. 'God knows fur ther bes.' We uns air thankful hit haint no what then what hit air. If we uns never meet agin, pray fur Huldah, her man, an' ther chillun."

I promised faithfully and just as she passed out, Marthy whispered that "ther little mother would like to speak ter me."

"Ther little mother" came awkwardly in with a pink sunbonnet dangling from her arm, and her red brown hair plaited, and hanging down her back. Her eyes were brown, her feet bare, and the dress—waist and skirt were in two pieces, pinned together by safety pins. She could not have been over fourteen years of age. These mountain girls marry young, and families comprising ten and fifteen are too numerous for either pride or poverty's sake. I told "ther child mother" that her little one was better off in that fair land of angels, and in attempting to comfort her I was surprised to find the desired panacea for my own troubled heart. We had met on equal footing and had found patience in mutual sorrow.

She listened intently. Poor child! Ignorant of even the simplest form of polite ethics the most favored phase of common usage in etiquette and social status. She appeared to me (standing there wonder-eyed and helpless) as another problem in the study of ghosts. A spirit of the dead and unformed and plastic, in which might dwell seven angels of truth and forgiveness, or a legion of devils wild and untamed as a pack of hounds, captured in the jungles of Africa.

Who could teach or train this twisted chain of ideals? What manner of man could be found to stoop down and raise to higher altitude this forsaken woman weeping over the death of an innocent babe on who had been showered all the love and devotion of a cruel agony? I was powerless to say. She, too, wept, but in silence more pathetic than even Huldah's grief, for it was more sublime. I called to Marthy to my rescue. "Martha," I said, "we uns can't give this little mother a home? She could assist you in so many ways, and keep you company when Huldah is from home. She is so lonely, so desolate, and I will ask my mother and sister to clothe her, and we will send her to school." The saying pleased "Marthy" for she considered a business proposition as essential as a spiritual one, and went about doing useful deeds as methodically as she did deeds of charity. So it was decided that our protégée would remain under our roof and enter into the duties of home and housekeeping immediately. She made herself useful in many ways to me, agreeing to appreciate my efforts in her behalf, and when I was able to sit up she always brought me the freshest milk from the mountain spring and the dew bespangled blossoms from the mountain side, going about her work with a brighter face, a more wide awake view of life, a seeming desire for an education, the key to which was as yet unknown, but which would be brightened by fingers used to labor and taught to understand the handwriting of God.

"It is a little thing to speak a phrase of common comfort, which, by daily use, has almost lost its sense; yet on the ear Of him who thought to die unmourned, 'Twill fall like choicest music."

EXCURSIONS TO THE WEST

To the Pacific Coast—to California, Oregon, Washington—round-trip, long transit and return limits, liberal stop-over privileges.

The rate is practically on the basis of one fare for the round trip. Of course, if you wish to visit both California and Oregon or Washington, the cost is slightly more.

These reduced rates are in effect on certain dates in months of May to October, inclusive. They apply from all Eastern points via Chicago, St. Louis or Memphis gateways. The Rock Island System will take you up in either Chicago or St. Louis, or at hundreds of other Middle West points and carry you to the Coast in through Standard or Tourist Sleepers with unexcelled Dining Car service. The Rock Island also affords a choice of routes: on the "Scenic" route you can stop off in Colorado—see Salt Lake City—visit Yellowstone National Park; on the "Southern" route you can go via El Paso, thru New Mexico, then "up coast" to San Francisco and on to Portland or Seattle if desired.

In short, these Pacific Coast excursions offer an unusually good chance to see our western country in a comprehensive manner.

If you desire to go only as far as Colorado, there are excursion rates in effect to that section and return, all summer long, specially reduced June 30 to July 4, August 12 and 13, and August 30 to September 4. Extension trips to Ogden or Salt Lake and return at low cost also.

From September 15 to October 31, 1905, one-way tourist or "colonist" tickets will be on sale to California and the Pacific Northwest—about half regular fare.

If interested, send name and address on this coupon, designating which booklet wanted and to what point you plan to go. Name probable date of start also, so we can advise definitely with respect to rates, etc.
